In this lesson, students will spend time reflecting on their relationship with the American flag and discussing their opinions with their classmates. Afterwards, students will participate in an art activity inspired by Sheila Pree Bright’s “Young American” series where they will reimagine the design of the flag.

YouGov in partnership with NBCLX finds that while most Americans are proud of the US flag, minorities and younger Americans tend to hold the flag in less esteem than older white Americans do.

About 7 in 10 (72%) Americans say the American flag makes them feel proud. Americans under 35 (56%) are less likely than those who are 35-to-54 years old (71%) or 55 and older (67%) to say the flag makes them feel proud.

There are also differences when it comes to race: most white Americans (79%) say the flag makes them feel proud, while fewer Hispanic Americans (67%) and Black Americans (59%) feel the same way.
From this data, we can see that Americans under 35 and those Americans who identify as BIPOC have a different kind of relationship with the American flag than older white Americans. But why is that?

At this point, show students the following video from NBCLX in which different generations discuss what the American flag means to them:

Afterwards, discuss as a class what they saw in the video.

Alternatively, have the class break up into smaller groups to encourage more thoughtful discussions away from the pressure talking to the class at large. Questions to help guide this discussion include:

1. What did some of the people in the video say about what the American flag represents to them?
2. Was there an opinion expressed in the video that you agree with? Was there an opinion that you disagree with?
3. What do you think about when you see the American flag?

Afterwards come together and talk about the above questions as a class.

From the video, it is clear that Americans today, especially young BIPOC Americans, have a mixed relationship with the American flag. In her “Young Americans” series, artist Sheila Pree Bright uses photography to explore the relationship between various individuals and the American flag.

Sheila Pree Bright

Through her photography, Sheila Pree Bright, a Georgia native who is currently based in Atlanta, has routinely questioned the power structures that inform representations of African American communities and individuals.
Her objective is to capture images that allow the viewer to experience those who are unheard as they contemplate or voice their reaction to ideas and issues that are shaping their world.

In 2021, Sheila created a body of work in Lynn, MA called “Re-Birth.” The installation consisted of a number of wheat pastes posted in the streets of Lynn of photographs from her “Young Americans” series.

Wheatpaste is a gel or liquid adhesive made from wheat flour or starch and water. It has been used since antiquity for various arts and crafts, including adhering paper posters and notices to walls.

At this point, show students an image of one of Sheila’s wheat pasted photos. Have students fill out the Lesson Form (located below and on the Beyond Walls webpage) as they examine the work.

Afterwards, discuss everyone’s responses as a class.

While in conversations with diverse students from around the country, Sheila found a common thread among their voices about the complicated relationship with the American flag and the Great American myth.

For this photography series, Sheila shows diverse young Americans who are new to the voting system and exploring ideas of what it means to be American. The sitters express their perspectives in a statement and pose in their chosen stance with the American flag. Sheila believes that these portraits will symbolize the nation’s re-birth, challenging a broken system in which the next generation will inherit.
ART ACTIVITY

FOR THIS ACTIVITY, STUDENTS ARE ASKED TO REDESIGN THE AMERICAN FLAG BASED ON THEIR RELATIONSHIP WITH THE FLAG AND WHAT THEY BELIEVE THE IT SHOULD REPRESENT.

TO HELP INSPIRE STUDENTS, SHOW THEM THE FOLLOWING VIDEO IN WHICH PARTICIPANTS OF SHEILA’S “YOUNG AMERICANS” SERIES DISCUSS THE INSPIRATION BEHIND THEIR PORTRAIT.

HTTPS://WWW.YOUTUBE.COM/WATCH?v=jFntG_dWJuQ (WATCH UNTIL AT LEAST 3:26)

NEXT, HAVE STUDENTS FILL OUT THE “WHAT THE AMERICAN FLAG MEANS TO ME” WORKSHEET (LISTED BELOW). STUDENTS WILL USE THEIR RESPONSES TO THE WORKSHEET TO PLAN HOW THEY WANT THEIR AMERICAN FLAG TO LOOK.

AFTERWARDS, STUDENTS WILL PRESENT THEIR FLAGS TO THE CLASS, EXPLAINING THEIR DESIGN CHOICES.

THINGS STUDENTS SHOULD KEEP IN MIND:

1. THE TRADITIONAL ELEMENTS OF THE FLAG: STARS, STRIPES, AND COLORS. DO YOU WANT YOUR FLAG TO INCLUDE THESE ELEMENTS? OR DO YOU WANT TO BREAK FROM TRADITION?
2. WHAT DO YOU WANT YOUR FLAG TO REPRESENT? FOR EXAMPLE, MOST PEOPLE ASSOCIATE FREEDOM WITH THE CURRENT AMERICAN FLAG.
3. EACH ELEMENT OF THE AMERICAN FLAG HAS A MEANING BEHIND IT, WHETHER ITS THE COLORS OR THE SHAPES. WHAT WILL EACH ELEMENT IN YOUR FLAG REPRESENT?

EXTENSION FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS
W.6.3

HAVE STUDENTS WRITE AN ESSAY ABOUT WHAT THE AMERICAN FLAG MEANS TO THEM. FOR THIS ESSAY, STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED TO BE HONEST AND EVEN REFERENCE RECENT EVENTS IF RELEVANT. TO AID THE NARRATIVE OF THE ESSAY, STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ART ACTIVITY AND WRITE THE ESSAY IN RESPONSE TO THE FLAG THEY CREATED.

DIFFERENTIATION

This lesson plan accommodates each of the four learning styles: visual, auditory, reading and writing, and kinesthetic.

This lesson plan engages visual learners by having them engage with and analyze photography examples and by watching videos of artist interviews.

This lesson plan engages auditory learners by having them listen to the lecture and by watching videos where artists discuss their artistic practices.

This lesson plan engages reading and writing learners by having them fill out the accompanying lesson forms.

This lesson plan engages kinesthetic learners by providing a tactile experience in which students get to create their own version of the American flag.

ASSESSMENT

Assessment is conducted regularly throughout this lesson through group discussions.

For alternatives, the link below will take you to a document with a comprehensive list of assessment options. Though they are geared more towards Visual Arts, they can be altered or used for other curriculums, such as ELA and Science/Technology.

Exit slips are also a great strategy for assessment at the end of a lesson. For these slips, have students respond to the following questions:

1. Write one thing you learned today
2. Write one question you have about today’s lesson
3. Did you enjoy the lesson activities?
